- Cork, combined with RFID protection, makes the Bouken Travel Gift Set a modern-day travel essential. What is RFID protection? In an age with 'Tap and Go' facilities, becoming a victim of RFID theft is a real possibility. Someone could scan your credit card with an RFID reader, which can identify electronically stored information on your card, through your pocket or wallet, without your knowledge. RFID protection blocks and interrupts the electromagnetic fields and radio waves, preventing any communication between your card and the RFID reader.

Each piece is a celebration of local artistry, combining rich natural wood with premium leather strap handles to create a timeless aesthetic that complements any space. Each wooden tray is crafted from natural wood, meaning no two are alike. Variations in grain, texture, pattern, and colour are a hallmark of their authenticity and charm. These natural imperfections are not flaws—they are part of what makes each board beautifully unique. Due to the organic nature of the material, branding may also vary slightly depending on the individual characteristics of the wood. These wooden trays have been treated with natural, food-safe oils and are designed for both function and beauty. Whether adorning a dining table or serving as a centrepiece in your living room, the trays add warmth and character to every occasion.
